Teaching Practitioners FAQs

Vocational resource support

How do the resources map to the curriculum?

Answer: Construction training, digital and IT training, and education and childcare training have been launched in line with the new T Level pathways, developed to address future employment demands. The services are curriculum mapped to NVQ/SVQ/VRQ level 3 qualifications as well as being mapped to the latest National Occupational Standards (NOS). The services are also relevant to many BTEC units.

For health and social care training and Hairdressing training, the resources are curriculum mapped to every mandatory unit in NVQ/SVQ levels 2 and 3. The resources are also mapped to NOS (National Occupational Standards), identifying the learning objectives clearly through keywords.

The content was created by subject matter experts who currently teach in FE and are awarding body agnostic.

How do I find a resource?

Answer: The best way to find a specific resource is to search for it using either its unit title or a keyword; making sure to use terms common to curriculum specifications or occupational standards. If you can't find what you are looking for try similar terms or browse the resources via the filters. If you still can't find something from the mandatory curriculum you need, please get in touch via content.feandskills@jisc.ac.uk.

Take a look at our Searching, filters and tags guide to find out more

Can I print any of the supplementary material?

Answer: Yes, you can download and print our guides, infographics, worksheets, and transcripts. To do this, simply locate the resource that you wish to print, download and print as usual. Supplementary material which is downloaded from the vocational learning resources will expire at the end of the academic year, but you can redownload them. Transcripts do not expire.

Can I embed resources to my organisation's VLE?

Answer: Yes, linking the resource URL into your VLE will take you to the resource. Each resource page has a unique URL to allow swift navigation from embedded links.

How can I use the resources for FE in my teaching?

Answer: For top tips on how to embed resources in your teaching, please see the top tips for teachers <link>

Who can access the resources?

Answer: All Jisc FE members can access Hairdressing training. Construction training, digital and IT training, education and childcare training, and health and social care training are available to Jisc members who have subscribed to the services through Jisc Collections.

More information is available on our Learning and research resources site https://www.jisc.ac.uk/content/resources

Can more than one user access the resources?

Answer: Yes, there is no limit on how many registered users can access a single resource at any given time.

Is there any additional material available to help me with lesson planning?

Answer: We have promotional materials available on the support site containing posters, images, unit lists and an animation. Take a look at our promotional material page here <link>

If you have a question that has not been answered, please get in touch with the FE and skills team at: content.feandskills@jisc.ac.uk.